---

Work began on Signals many months ago, and over time its character morphed and changed. However, the impetus and the overall feeling derived specifically from the pads. There is an otherworldiness to the sounds that Thorn is capable of - effervescent and glistening - and it was these aspects which I wanted to bring to the fore. Being a decidedly modern synth, Thorn lends itself well to futuristic and cutting edge sounds, and I set out to create with Signals a vivid palette for modern ambient music. I very much hope you agree and that you find inspiration with these sounds.

Enjoy and happy synthing!
